Event Announcement: “The Journey Towards Justice, Reform, and Democracy – Bangladesh Today”

Tuesday, July 15, 2025 | Morning Session

The Bangladesh America Alliance bdusalliance.org, Bangladesh Research Analysis Information Network (BRAIN) brainbd.org, and Right to Freedom (R2F) rtof.org are pleased to announce a special event titled “The Journey Towards Justice, Reform, and Democracy – Bangladesh Today.” This important gathering will take place on the morning of Tuesday, July 15, 2025, at the Capitol Visitor Center in Washington, D.C., with the support of the office of Congressman Lloyd Doggett (D-TX).

The event will open with keynote remarks by Congressman Doggett, followed by two expert panels discussing Bangladesh’s evolving political landscape and the U.S.-Bangladesh bilateral relationship. Panelists will include scholars, human rights advocates, journalists, and diplomats.

As the one-year anniversary of Bangladesh’s Monsoon Revolution approaches, this event offers a timely opportunity to reflect on the progress made under the Interim Government led by Nobel Laureate Professor Muhammad Yunus, and to examine the challenges ahead in building a reformed, democratic Bangladesh—often referred to as “Bangladesh 2.0.” This event also provides the opportunity to provide information to the Trump Administration, Congress, and policymakers as they consider U.S. policy towards Bangladesh and the broader region.

The event will bring together a diverse audience consisting of members of Congress and their staff, human rights defenders, think tanks, and members of the Bangladeshi diaspora who stood in solidarity with the people of Bangladesh during their movement to restore democracy in Summer of 2024.

A post-event press briefing will be held on Wednesday, July 16, at 7 p.m. Dhaka time (9 a.m. ET) via Zoom: <https://syracuseuniversity.zoom.us/j/4650476359?omn=99385063720>

All news outlets and journalists are welcome to join the Zoom briefing.
